
a licensed health professional

may assist a self-directed student in programming their own pump by either verifying the accuracy of the student's math in calculating their own carbohydrate count; or the calculation of an insulin-to-carbohydrate ratio (ICR) or insulin sensitivity factor (ISF) for the student's pump. (EMSR)